

Can I get an email address that's my business name instead of Gmail?

Jeremy Stead - 2020-07-23 - Comments (0) - General

Yes, but it will depend on who you host with as to how you can do it.

If you are hosting with someone else, you will need to contact them to find the best way to get this set up.

If you are hosting with us, we suggest using Gsuite by Google. This is a paid service, but is very affordable and far more reliable than most email services, as well as having many other benefits (such as incredible SPAM filters). You will need to make some changes at your registrar level, so you will need to contact the company where you purchased the domain name, and setup a Gsuite account with Google.

We can assist with this, but it will be far cheaper and is fairly easy to do yourself. (If in doubt look up on Youtube for a video to follow).