

I found a cool photo on the internet. Can I put it on my website?

Jeremy Stead - 2020-07-25 - Comments (0) - General

If you like being dragged through the courts and being made to pay $1000's of dollars worth of legal fees and copyright infringement penalties, you can use whatever you like. Otherwise, avoid using most photos or images taken from the internet.

There are free stock image sites like Unsplash and Pexels, or you can take your own photos. But never steal other people's stuff.